⇒ a. a sports programme

6. I can never answer the questions, but it's fun.

⇒ c. a quiz show

7. This is boring. Nothing new happened in the world today. Let's watch a film instead.

⇒ g. the news

Work in groups and answer the questions. Teacher may explain and give example if students want.

1. Which TV programmes from Exercise 1 do you often watch?

2. Why do you watch them? (e.g. are they funny? Interesting?)

3. What are you going to watch tonight when you get home?

4. Do you normally watch programmes on TV or do you watch online videos (e.g. on YouTube)?

Give reasons for your answer. (for example: I normally watch online videos because I can watch it again whenever I want)

2.1.2 Listening: A report about how young people watch videos and TV

A Listen to a news report. Number A-C in the order the speaker mentions them (1-3).

Before you listen

Read the topics and predict the possible order of the talk.

While you listen

Pay attention to the key words in each topic when you are listening. Match the information you hear from the talk with the topics.

A-1 (turn on TV-watch drama series-comedy show- teenager-go online-favourite shows)

B-3 (some videos talk about products inside - 'How to' video to learn how to do something new)

C-2 (people aged 13 to 24 watch 21 hours of video on Youtube/online - only 8.2 hours a week on TV)

B Listen again. Answer the questions.

Before you listen

Read the questions carefully and underline the key words or the main ideas in each question. Try to remember the questions and the order the questions are sequenced if possible.

While you listen.

Listen to the report again and write down the answers for each question in forms of words or short phrases.

1. Which TV programmes does the speaker mention at the beginning?

- Drama series, comedy shows

2. Why do 81% of young people think online TV is better?

- Because you can watch it when you want

3. What topics do people talk about on Youtube?

- video games, fashion, films and music

4. Why do people watch 'How to' videos on YouTube?

- To learn how to do something new

Nội dung giảng dạy:

2.2 Why do you....?

2.2.1 Grammar: Infinitive of purpose

A Infinitive of purpose

We can use to + Verb (infinitive) to say why we do something. It tells the other person the reason. For example:

- I went on holiday (this is what I did) to relax (this is why I did it).

I went on holiday => the main action to relax => the reason

- She studies hard to get good marks.
- He gave up cakes to lose weight.
- I'm calling you to ask for your help.

The main verb can be in any tense. For example:

- Present simple: I exercise every day to stay healthy.
- Present continuous: He's saving money to buy a flat.
- Past simple: I went to university to get a degree.
- Past continuous: She was walking to the shops to buy milk when she met John.
- Future simple: He'll come to the party later to pick up Julia.
- Present perfect: She's gone to the library to study.

Note: We can also use in order to + Verb (infinitive) and so as to + Verb (infinitive). In order to is a bit more formal but the meaning is the same as so as to and to + Verb (infinitive).

B Reading: Interview with Adrian Seymour

Read about an interview with the film maker Adrian Seymour. Complete the text with the infinitives of purpose (a-e). Listen and check.

- | | |
|--------------------------------|------|
| a. to make a film | => 2 |
| b. to finish making the film | => 4 |
| c. to find out about his films | => 1 |
| d. to have a holiday | => 5 |
| e. to film wildlife | => 3 |

Work in pairs. Match the actions (1-5) with the reasons (a-e). Then make sentences starting with I'm going to...

|--|---|
| 1. read this book about Martin Scorsese | c. to find out about his life |
| 2. go to art school | e. to study painting |
| 3. play this computer game again | b. to reach level five |
| 4. buy theatre tickets | a. to see a play by Shakespeare |
| 5. watch these videos | d. to learn how to play the guitar | e.g. I'm going to read this book about Martin Scorsese to find out about his life.

2.2.2 Speaking: Talking about purpose of a plan

A Think of your plans. Write sentences about where you are going, when and why. Use some of these ideas.

the cinema tomorrow the theatre on Friday a concert at the weekend on art gallery next week a museum next month another place

B Work in pairs. Take turns to tell each other your plans. Ask your partners for the reason or more details.

M: I'm going to London tomorrow.

W: Why are you going?

M: To meet some friends.

C Extension: Communicative activities (handouts)

2.3.2 Reading: Nature in art

A Read the text Nature in art.

Before you read

Give some brief information about 4 artists in the article:

Stanisław Ignacy Witkiewicz (1885-1939) commonly known as Witkacy, was a Polish writer, painter, philosopher, theorist, playwright, novelist, and photographer active before World War I and during the interwar period.

Andō Hiroshige (1797 - 1858), Japanese artist, one of the last great ukiyo-e ("pictures of the floating world") masters of the colour woodblock print. His genius for landscape compositions was first recognized in the West by the Impressionists and Post-Impressionists. His print series Fifty-three Stations of the Tōkaidō (1833–34) is perhaps his finest achievement.

Beatriz Milhazes (born 1960) is a Brazilian artist. She is known for her work juxtaposing Brazilian cultural imagery and references to western Modernist painting.

Vincent Van Gogh (1853 – 1890) was a Dutch Post-Impressionist painter who posthumously became one of the most famous and influential figures in Western art history

While you read

Read the article and match each artist to the photo of their art (1-4)

- Picture 1: Vincent Van Gogh
- Picture 2: Stanisław Ignacy Witkiewicz
- Picture 3: Andō Hiroshige
- Picture 4: Beatriz Milhazes

Read the article again. Tick (v) the sentences that are true for each artist, according to the information in the article.

b. This artist paints and uses nature in art: Vincent Van Gogh, Stanisław Ignacy Witkiewicz, Andō Hiroshige, Beatriz Milhazes

c. This artist is living now: Beatriz Milhazes

d. This artist painted the same subject eleven times: Vincent Van Gogh

e. This artist also makes sculptures: Beatriz Milhazes

g. This artist painted flowers: Beatriz Milhazes, Vincent Van Gogh

h. He didn't have money when he died: Andō Hiroshige, Vincent Van Gogh

B Read the following article. Choose the correct answer to each question.

Nature is always a popular topic for artists. Many famous paintings show beautiful landscapes, forests, mountains, and oceans. Artists paint nature to show its beauty and share it with others. For example, Vincent van Gogh painted the bright colors of sunflowers in his work “Sunflowers.” Another artist, Claude Monet, is known for his lovely paintings of water lilies and the Japanese bridge in his garden.

Artists often choose nature because it has many different colors and shapes. The changing seasons also give different scenes and feelings. In the fall, artists might paint the golden leaves and cool air, while in the spring, they may focus on the flowers and fresh green trees. By painting nature, artists invite viewers to enjoy and appreciate the natural world.

Paintings of nature can also have deeper meanings. Sometimes, they show how people connect with the environment. For instance, a painting of a forest might show how people are linked to nature or how they affect it. Paintings of nature help us see the world in a new way and describe the beauty around us.

1. Why do artists paint nature?

- A. To show its beauty B. To make people laugh C. To paint dark scenes

2. Which artist painted sunflowers?

- A. Claude Monet B. Vincent van Gogh C. Pablo Picasso

3. What does painting in different seasons provide?

- A. Different scenes and feelings B. Only summer views C. Simple shapes and colors

4. What can paintings of nature show about people?

A. How people dislike nature B. How people affect nature C. How people live in cities
5. What do paintings of nature help us see?

A. Only the artist's feelings B. Old and forgotten things C. A new way of seeing
